

Flask Note Taking App Debugging

Bug 1 -> 405 Method Not Allowed

Description -> The Method on the home route is only post and its trying to send a get request

Solution -> We include a get request to the home route

Method Not Allowed

The method is not allowed for the requested URL.

Bug 2 -> The first note being display is NONE

Description -> The return render template is returning a notes parameter with the template even before any note is found

Solution -> Add an if statement to check if there's any item in the note list before rendering it with the index else it render an empty page

- None
- None

Bug 3 -> Appending None to note

Description -> The route function keeps appending none to the notes if the user reload the page and keeps displaying it

Solution -> Add an if statement to check if a note is present before appending

- None
